"I Roughed It"

Many of us have to work hard all day long. We cannot care for ourselves as we would. No wonder our blood gets out of order, becomes thin and impure. This produces boils, eruptions, nervousness, indigestion, and great weakness.

We have this photograph and letter from Mr. John Hafner, of Wagga Wagga, New South Wales. Read carefully what he says: "I have roughed it a great deal, mining, working in storms, exposed to the heat, and have often had poor food. My blood frequently becomes impure and I have eruptions, boils, and become generally run down. But Ayer's Sarsaparilla takes hold of me every time, makes my blood pure and builds me right up."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations "Sarsaparillas." Be sure you get Ayer's.

Take Ayer's Pills with the Sarsaparilla. They aid in purifying the blood, and they cure constipation and biliousness.

CHAMBERLAIN DEFENDS PLAN.

Says England Will be Nearer Free Trade Than Ever.

London, June 7.—Seldom has the reassembling of Parliament been looked forward to with greater anxiety and curiosity than today, when the anomalous situation will be revealed of the Liberal Association defending the free-trade budget against the Government, whose Ministers have partially abandoned the free-trade policy. The irony of the situation is brought home to the Government's most loyal supporters, who are beginning to reproach the Ministers with bad judgment and to call loudly for a revelation of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's plans.

The Conservative Standard complains that the Colonial Secretary's letter in reply to a workingman, which was evidently planned to coincide with the reassembling of the House of Commons, lacks his usual lucidity of statement and fails to assist the country in deciding a difficult point. It is quite certain that the position looks less hopeful for Chamberlain's plans since Parliament adjourned.

While several influential Conservatives have spoken in opposition to his scheme, not a single Minister has ventured to praise or even express a modified approval of it. In some quarters Chamberlain is credited with preparing a dramatic surprise in the shape of telegrams from the Premiers of all the colonies approving the principles of his policy.

The Melbourne correspondent of the Times says the statement telegraphed to England by Alfred B. Eaken, the Attorney-General of the Australian Commonwealth, that the Commonwealth Government and all the Governments of the separate states approved Chamberlain's proposals, and that an immense majority was assured for the new policy when it was submitted to the Australian people, is considered to be premature and not warranted by public utterances. Some of the Premiers of the states express a guarded approval of the proposals, while others have been silent. Many protectionists, adds the correspondent, are in favor of the scheme provided that the Australian tariff be increased against foreign countries and not lowered in favor of Great Britain.

In his letter in reply to a workingman who drew his attention to the denunciation of his proposals by the trades union leaders Chamberlain says he attaches no importance to the criticisms because the trades union leaders are almost all strong Radical partisans. He is confident that in this matter the workingmen will think for themselves and not be dictated to by the trades union leaders.

Chamberlain proceeds to say it will be impossible to secure preferential treatment from the colonies without Great Britain placing some duty on wheat as well as other articles of food, because these are the chief articles of colonial produce.

"Whether this will raise the cost of living is a matter of opinion," says Chamberlain. "There is no doubt in many cases duty of this kind will be paid by the exporter, and it really depends on the extent of competition among the exporting countries. For instance, I think it is established that the duty of 1 shilling recently imposed on imported wheat was met by a reduction in prices and freight rates by states, and, therefore, the tax did not fall on the consumers here; but even if the price of food is raised the rate of wages will certainly rise in greater proportion. This has been the case both in the United States and Germany. In America the available balance left to the worker after he has paid for necessities is much larger than here. These are facts which we must bring to the notice of the workingmen generally.

"There is another side of the question which requires discussion. At present we enter into negotiations with foreign countries empty handed. If we were able to bargain on equal terms I believe the duties now imposed on our products would be generally reduced. There would be competition among foreign nations for our markets, which would bring us nearer to real free trade than we have ever been."

Repeating his conviction that a revision of duties would enable a large old-age pension scheme to be carried out, Chamberlain declares that the returns show that a rapid increase in the imports of colonial produce occurred in the past, even without preference, while British exports of finished articles abroad were gradually given place to exports of raw materials which were returned with the advantage to the foreigner of increased employment of labor and of trade profits on the business thus secured.

In conclusion, referring to the predictions that his proposals would ruin the country, Chamberlain asks: "How are we to account for the fact that the increase of exports, wages and general prosperity during the last twenty-nine years in the United States and Germany have been greater than in Great Britain, which is the only civilized country in the world to enjoy the blessings of unrestricted free imports?"

Simple Cure For Insomnia.

Insomnia troubles most commercial travelers during their first few trips on the road. Some resort to one thing to woo sleep, others to somethings else, but the majority of them find that the most potent soporific is the ticking of a loud-voiced clock or watch. "I had been traveling for two months," said a hardware drummer, "and was fairly worn to a string with sleeplessness before I heard of that simple boon to the nervous. Finally I met a man in the Palmer House in Chicago who told me about the watch remedy. He had suffered just that way when he first went on the road and had learned from experience that a watch with a tick like a sawmill was the best cure in the world for wakefulness. It was about 10 o'clock at night when he told me about it, but I set out to find the kind of timepiece he described. After scouring State street for an hour or so I got hold of a watch that met all requirements. With that in my pocket you could hear me coming a block away, and I knew that if his theory was worth anything at all, I ought to be able to sleep for two days at a stretch without a bit of trouble. Owing to the bellboy's vigilance I did not put in quite that much time, but I certainly did sleep with a vengeance, and since then I never lose an opportunity to advise other restless travelers to provide themselves with a watch that is not afraid to speak right out in meeting."

Cruiser is Seized.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—The new cruiser Chattanooga and the gunboat Galveston that are being completed in the ship-yards of the Ship-building Trust have been seized by the creditors of the Trust. The Trust is now in the hands of a receiver, Lewis Nixon having recently resigned as President. Trouble is imminent on account of the possible delay in carrying out the contracts with the Government.

TEN BOLD ASSERTIONS

Regarding Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

1. It affords quick relief in cases of colic, cholera morbus and pains in the stomach.
2. It never fails to effect a cure in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. It is a sure cure for chronic diarrhoea.
4. It can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
5. It cures epidemic dysentery.
6. It prevents bilious colic.
7. It is prompt and effective in curing all bowel complaints.
8. It never produces bad results.
9. It is pleasant and safe to take.
10. It has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

These are bold assertions to make regarding any medicine, but there is abundant proof of every one of the above statements regarding this remedy. Every household should have a bottle at hand. Get it today. It may save a life. The Hilo Drug Co. sells it.

When the weather is too rough for the Kinau to land at Laupahoehoe Wednesday the leaving time of stage from Hilo is changed to 4:00 a. m. on Thursday morning, and the Wednesday stage from Laupahoehoe to Honokaa will be held to connect with it. On Mondays following the arrival of the Mauna Loa in Honuapo on Sundays, the leaving time of the stage for Laupahoehoe from Hilo is changed to 10:00 a. m., and the Honokaa stage is held at Laupahoehoe to connect with it. Aside from carrying of express matter and passengers these stages carry U. S. Mail, so patrons may rest assured of prompt connections.
